University of Zagreb Faculty of Textile Technology

28 January 2025 is organizing

17th Consecutive and 7th International Scientific-Professional Symposium

„Textile Science & Economy“, with a theme

„SYNERGY OF TECHNOLOGY, SCIENCE & ART – THE CONCEPT OF SUSTAINABILITY AND DEVELOPMENT OF TEXTILE PRINTING“

On behalf of the conference organizer, we are honoured to invite you to participate in the 17th Consecutive and 7th International Scientific and professional conference TZG 2025 "Synergy of technology, science and art - the concept of sustainability and development of textile printing". The aim of the conference is to connect the educational, scientific and research resources of the Faculty of Textile Technology and other related higher education institutions with businesses, entrepreneurial and creative incubators and participants from other related fields. The program of the TZG 2025 conference includes invited talks by renowned experts from government, higher education, research and business institutions and poster presentations of scientific and research, artistic and professional papers.

The conference will be accompanied by other activities, such as an exhibition of works by students and teachers from the University of Zagreb Faculty of Textile Technology. As envisaged in the original idea of the conference, this year's Textile Science and Economy Conference will also be an opportunity for meetings, exchange of opinions and experiences and the establishment of cooperation between participants from universities, institutes and business. The planned theme of the conference "Synergy of Technology, Science and Art - the Concept of Sustainability and Development of Textile Printing" opens up a wide range of possibilities for the submission of papers from various fields of science and art.

We invite you to submit contributions not only from the fields of textile, apparel and footwear technology and design, but also from other scientific and professional fields, as textiles are interdisciplinary and textile science, technology and design are inextricably linked to other scientific, artistic and professional fields.

You can make your scientific, artistic and professional contribution by submitting a scientific paper, a review or a professional paper. Following the peer-review process, authors will be offered the opportunity to publish their papers in the scientific-professional journals Textiles and Leather & Footwear or in the Proceedings with international peer-review in electronic form.

The published papers will be presented during the conference in the form of poster presentations.

The official language of the conference is Croatian and English (without simultaneous translation).

Important dates:

Abstract submissions are accepted until November 25, 2024.

Notification of abstract acceptance: November 30, 2024.

Full papers are accepted until December 15, 2024.

Announcement of the conference program: January 20, 2025.

Registration fee for accepted papers 50.00 EUR per paper.

Deadline for payment of the paper registration fee: December 30, 2024.

2025 TZG Conference: January 28, 2025.
